This will not be a formal DEH Training but will be emphasizing shamanic journeying including advanced techniques not shared before. There will be lots of practice time journeying for yourself as well as for fellow participants both in small groups as well as in the larger circle.

Additionally, Howard's intention is to incorporate group collective intentions as a way to explain and demonstrate the DEH protocol for you to follow along on the protocol outline. Collective intentions provide for deep healing for everyone in the circle, regardless of your active participation during the intention.

If you are a therapist who uses any of these methods or you are a client of a DEH practitioner, you are invited to go deeper into this interdimensional experience. Feel free to share this information with colleagues and friends who may share your interest in this way of working with people.

- Energy Psychology (EP) is the platform through which DEH unfolds. You will learn how EP strategies are integrated with shamanic healing through Frontal Occipital Holding along with collective intentions.
- Muscle testing/energy checking is integral to the successful implementation of DEH including in-person as well as remote testing. It will be best to have some prior competency.
- You will practice shamanic journeying each day emphasizing whole person nourishment, replenishment, healing of self & others and acquisition of cumulative stores of power. Bring an eye cover and pen & paper to write out your journeys.
- Additional shamanic journeywork will include journeying for the living Earth as well as journeying as a group for the “client” in the middle of the circle. Merging and shapeshifting will be practiced as a fundamental task in the shamanic skill set.
- At least two collective group intentions will be incorporated. Working on collective intentions provides healing for each participant in the group regardless of the degree of your active participation.
- The importance of energetic boundaries will be emphasized along with discussion of how subtle negative energy formulations can perpetuate traumatic residue and keep clients stuck.

The structure of each day will be mini-lectures with an emphasis on experiential work, including journeying as a group, with a partner as well as collective group intentions.

These 4-days are intended to shift your “assemblage point” so you have a foot in both worlds.

The structure of each day will be mini-lectures with an emphasis on experiential work, including journeying, one on one as well as collective group intentions.
